Creationism is the religious belief that nature, and aspects such as the universe, Earth, life, and humans, originated with supernatural acts of divine creation. In its broadest sense, creationism includes a continuum of religious views, which vary in their acceptance or rejection of scientific explanations such as evolution that describe the origin and development of natural phenomena.

Creationism - Wikipedia

Theistic evolutionists believe that there is a God, that God is the creator of the material universe and (by consequence) all life within, and that biological evolution is a natural process within that creation. Evolution, according to this view, is simply a tool that God employed to develop human life.

Acceptance of evolution by religious groups - Wikipedia

As a theory, Creationism is about as far from evolution as you can possibly get without just declaring outright war on Darwin—seriously, it's so controversial even the former Archbishop of Canterbury was against teaching it. But hey, if that's your thing, you're not exactly alone.

10 Alternatives to Evolution - Listverse

Creationism or Intelligent Design is the belief that life and the universe were created by a supernatural being (an "intelligent designer"), an omnipotent, benevolent God. Evolution is the process by which different kinds of living organisms developed and diversified from earlier forms during the history of the Earth.

Creationism vs Evolution - Difference and Comparison | Diffeen
