He had that knowledge which a man could obtain only by ascending to heaven, and He came down from heaven with it. From the human point of view He was as one who had already ascended and descended. (Comp. Note on John 1:51.) This is the evident meaning of the sentence, and the form is quite consistent with it.

John 3:13 No one has ascended into heaven except the One ...

And He did that also for each one of you! ----- 1 John 4:9 This is how God showed his love among us: He sent his one and only Son into the world that we might live through him. 2) Jesus left heaven to come to earth, died for our sins, and rose again from the dead to enable us to move from death to life (John 5:24).

Why Jesus Came from Heaven to Earth | 12 Reasons

In the Gospel of John, Jesus says: "And no man hath ascended up to heaven, but he that came down from heaven, [even] the Son of man which is in heaven." (John 3) Traditionally Christianity interprets the "Son of Man" as a title of Jesus, but this has never been an article of faith and there are other interpretations.

The massive multi-author tome on definite atonement, From Heaven He Came And Sought Her, deserves a full review. Any volume that starts with Packer, ends with Piper, and has essays by Trueman, Motyer and Schreiner in between, probably would. I had initially hoped to provide one, given my history of sporadic squabbling with this particular doctrine.

He is God’s sermon to us, his eternal Word made flesh. Before he can even speak, this little child proclaims to us the heart of God. A little Child, Thou art our Guest That weary ones in Thee may rest; Forlorn and lowly is Thy birth That we may rise to heaven from earth. All this for us Thy love hath done; By this to Thee our love is won;
