However, we can easily find the exact answer using the HP 17BII calculator. Enter 9 into I%YR, -1250 into PV, and 2500 into FV. Now solve for N and you will see that it will take 8.04 years for your money to double. One important thing to note is that you absolutely must enter your numbers

according to the cash flow sign convention. If you don't make either the PV or FV a negative number (and the other one positive), then you will get NO SOLUTION on the screen instead of the answer.
