Maslaha And The Purpose Of

The concept was first clearly articulated by al-Ghazali (d. 1111), who argued that maslaha was God ’s general purpose in revealing the divine law, and that its specific aims was preservation of five essentials of human well-being: religion, life, intellect, offspring, and property. Although most classical-era jurists recognized maslaha as an important legal principle, they held different views regarding the role it should play in Islamic law.

Based on Ghazali’s understanding, the very purpose of producing Islamic laws is to protect the nafs (life), din (religion), ‘aql (reason) ‘irz (honour) and mal (properties) of the believers. So each hukm or fatwa issued by the jurists should be in the favour of these 5 purposes. But in Shiite understanding, that is different.
