Nanny I Love You Because

I love being a nanny because I don't have to sit in a cubicle all day. I get to chase after kiddos, stay fit and active, and have fun. I love being a nanny because I'm getting paid to interact with kiddos, and let's face it, kids are way more fun than adults (most of the time, until your toddler charge throws the hissy fit of the century because she wants ice cream for breakfast).

How to Be the Best Nanny : Why Do You Love Working as a Nanny?

Oh overtime. How I love you and hate you at the same time. I love you because I work hard and I deserve it. I hate you because so many parents ignore their LEGAL obligation to pay it, so I'm stuck deciding whether or not to risk my job by bringing it up or quitting my job because after bringing it up, they still refuse to pay it.

A nanny and a house cleaner are two VERY different jobs and generally speaking, most nannies don't decide to become a nanny so they can clean houses -- they decide to be a nanny because they love children and are passionate about investing in them. A nanny is exactly that -- a NANNY. I've already touched on this a bit in the article "Wait.
